

Everything, You Are –

© S Patterson and J Wilson; Rooted Publishing ASCAP 2007

You speak and there's history
Both good and calamity
You speak and there's beauty
Found in between every blink of an eye

All credit, we will give it to You
All glory is Yours

Oh God of all we see, You thought of everything
Nothing's new to You
It's easy to believe, You thought of everything
When we think of everything You are; Everything, You are

You came to the earth as man
You died and you rose again
Brought life through Your Spirit and
Gave everything, we could need, now we're free singing
All credit, we will give it to You
All glory is Yours

You are the start and the ending of
You are the King
You are the cause and the WHY of laws
You reign supreme

Oh God I can't believe
You give me everything
So I come to receive
